SUCCUMBS TO PNEUMONIA ATTACK

London, Nov. 15.—12:35 a. m.—Field Marshall Earl Roberts died last night in France from pneumonia. A telegram from Field Marshall Sir John French, commander of the British expeditionary forces on the continent apprised Earl Kitchener, secretary of state for war of the death of England's great soldier. The telegram read:

"I deeply regret to tell you that Lord Roberts died at 8 o'clock this (Saturday) evening."

Field Marshall Roberts, who was colonel-in-chief of the Indian troops had gone to France to give them his greeting. Soon after his arrival he became seriously ill. He suffered from a severe chill on Thursday and pneumonia rapidly developed. His age, 82 years, militated against his recovery, the crisis in the disease coming quickly.

Was a National Hero.
The news of the death of Lord Roberts came as an entire surprise to England. The veteran's devotion to the interests of the army, his hard work in this connection, his seeming good health had been the subject of comment since the beginning of the war. He was the most popular military figure in Great Britain and a national hero without rival in the affections of the people.

Despite his years he had never ceased hard work since his nominal retirement and, as he had often remarked, he lived a rigidly abstemious life that he might preserve his strength for the service of his country.

During the last five years when the German war cloud had been growing he prosecuted an active campaign to persuade the nation to adopt a compulsory military service. His belief was that Great Britain required the training of the whole male population in arms rather than the plan of Switzerland that the longer terms of conscription enforced in the case of continental military nations.

By speeches in parliament and addresses before meetings throughout the Kingdom, by magazine writings and letters he preached unceasingly and untiringly the necessity for the nation to have its men trained in the rudiments, at least, of the soldier's work, so that they could be called quickly to arms to defend the country against invasion.

In private conversation he expressed the conviction that Germany was planning to make war on Great Britain when she found an advantageous moment and he believed that the supposed menace of civil war in Ireland was a factor in setting alight the present European conflagration. Lord Roberts commanded none of the arts of the orator and usually read his speeches. His popular nickname "Bobs" implied no lack of personal dignity. Although only five feet three inches tall, he was shorter than Field Marshall French—his figure and bearing were the embodiment of soldierly character.

Had No Time for Society.
His home at Ascot was a modest, unpretentious villa. For society he had neither time nor inclination but he was the president of the Pig-gim's club and presided over many of its gatherings.

Field Marshall Roberts worked day and night for the welfare of the soldiers from the outbreak of the war. He took the greatest interest in the Indian army and an appeal for funds for their wounded and sick. He also made requests for sportsmen to contribute saddles for the army which brought a ready response. He made other requests for the loan of field glasses to officers during the war. And he wrote personal letters of thanks to all contributors.

One of his last speeches was made at a review of a battalion of volunteers when he referred sarcastically to young men who played football and cricket at his crisis.

years a second lieutenant and became lieutenant only a short time before the days of the Mutiny. He received his first commission, as second lieutenant of the Bengal Artillery on December 12, 1851, and became lieutenant on June 3, 1857. With the spirit of a true soldier he was to be found in the thick of the fighting during the bloody campaign in India, in which he first distinguished himself by his bravery and won the Victoria Cross by rescuing a British standard and saving the life of a soldier during the action of Khodagunge, on January 2, 1858.

He took part in numerous battles and skirmishes and was seven times mentioned in despatches between December 15, 1857, and June 8, 1858, and also received the thanks of the Governor-General. The rules of the corps to which he belonged, however, stood in the way of his promotion and it was not until November 12, 1860, that he became captain and on the next day was made brevet major. In that rank he remained eight years. He was made Quartermaster General of the Second division in the Abyssinian expedition in 1868 and superintended the re-embarkation of the entire army. For this he was made lieutenant colonel, but his staff position remained unaltered. Not until he had been for three years Division Quartermaster General of Bengal that he became full colonel and on the following day he was made Quartermaster General of Bengal.

When the Afghan war broke out, Lord Lytton specially selected Roberts for the command of a column and the brilliant generalship and distinguished bravery which Roberts displayed during the numerous actions of that war proved the eminent wisdom of Lord Lytton's choice. It was Roberts who captured the Afghan positions at Peiwar Notal, who occupied the district of Khost and Cabul and distinguished himself in the desperate battle of Charasia. It was Roberts who was selected by Field Marshall Sir Donald Stewart to lead the dash for Kandahar. It was in recognition of these eminent services that he was created first Baron of Kandahar and Waterford.

In 1881 he was sent to South Africa, but found nothing to do when he got there, and the same year he was given the command of the troops in the Madras Presidency, which troops, like those of Bombay, Bengal, the Ojnah, etc., were later, on Roberts' advice, amalgamated into one Indian army with no presidential but divisional commands. After four years in Madras he was, with universal applause, Lord Wolseley having for the second time declined the post, made commander-in-chief in India. But Roberts was not satisfied with resting in his administrative position. He was eager for fighting and took over the command in Burma after the capture of Mandalay and directed the movements which in course of time reduced to practical obedience the old realm of Theebaw. That work done, he returned to India, intent on realizing the dream of his later life, and making the north and northwest frontiers of the great dependency safe against invasion.

Roberts was made commander of the forces in Ireland in 1895 and remained in that position until 1899, when, after the outbreak of the Boer war, he was made commander-in-chief in South Africa. He relieved Kimberley in February, 1900, took Commandant Cronje and the western Boer army prisoners and returned to England in 1900, laden with honors, and the idol of the British people. He was created Earl of Kandahar, Pretoria and Waterford in 1902 and was made Knight of the Garter, receiving a medal with six clasps. There was only one more, the highest honor, that could be bestowed upon him, the position of Commander-in-Chief of the British army and to this post he was elevated in 1901, after his return to England and he held the position until his retirement from active service in 1904. Since then Earl Roberts lived in comparative retirement, devoting himself to recreation and literary work.

MISSISSIPPI RIVER PILOT DIES

AT THE WHEEL OF HIS BOAT
St. Louis, Nov. 14.—Charles Martin, 64 years old, pilot of the steam tug Duquesne, the largest stern wheel on the Mississippi river, died at the wheel of his boat as she was nearing Alton, Ill., near here to night. Just before his last breath left him Martin called for Captain Jack Richtman, his wheel-mate.

The captain took charge of the vessel just in time to turn her from a dangerous channel, towards which the boat was headed. Martin's death was due to heart disease. None of the passengers of the crew knew the pilot was dead until after the boat's course had been righted.

WORK OF RECOGNIZED WORTH.
On another page of this issue appears a cut which gives proof that Otto Speth, the well known Jacksonville photographer, won recognition at the exhibit of the Photographers Association of America. There were more than five hundred prints exhibited and of this number 197 were rated as worthy of place. Mr. Speth is an artist of exceptional talent and he is continually studying to improve and so keeps in touch with all advances made in photography. His studio is a credit to Jacksonville.

YORK STATE BOYS SHIP THEMSELVES AS FREIGHT

THREE DISCOVERED IN PIANO BOX AT FREIGHT HOUSE IN CHICAGO

Boys Were Well Supplied with Canned Goods Enough to Last for Trip They Had Planned to Take from Binghamton, N. Y., to Coloma, Calif.

Chicago, Nov. 14.—Three orphan boys who shipped themselves in a reinforced, upholstered piano box from Binghamton, N. Y., to Coloma, Calif., as freight, were discovered tonight when a sweating truckman dumped the box on the floor of the Erie freight house here.

"That's some box," he said. "You bet it is," said a young man who stuck a dirty head out of a trap door in the side. "Can I get a drink of water?"

The astonished freight handler ran for the watchman who telephoned for several officials of the freight department. The travelers informed them he was Willard E. Montague, a snake charmer, and that he had two pythons in a bundle of quilts in a corner of the box. Montague said that was his real name and that he is 22 years old.

The others said they were Carl Espe, 17, and William Fox, 18. They wanted to go to a ranch owned by Montague's uncle, Dr. William Tappan Lamb, near Coloma, Cal. Not having funds for railroad fare they had a carpenter place a double bottom in a piano box, fastened padding on the sides, cut a trap window, bored a few air holes, fixed the lid so it could be fastened from the inside and lastly painted in large letters on the outside.

"Don't stand on end." With the money remaining they bought a stock of canned goods. Montague arranged to have the freight paid at Coloma, where the boys expected to escape. The three had been enroute a week when they were found here tonight. They said they expected the trip would take three weeks and had provisions to last that time.

They were taken into custody by special officers of the railroad. Executives of the freight department said the three had violated both state and national laws and that the outcome of the case was just now a puzzle.

TWO INJURED WHEN TRUNK EXPLODES AT SPRINGFIELD

Louis Ross Suffers Loss of Right Arm—J. McKee of Bloomington Badly Hurt—Trunk Contained Ammunition for Hunting Trip.
Springfield, Ill., Nov. 14.—Two men, Louis Ross, colored, and J. McKee, of Bloomington, were seriously injured here this afternoon, when a trunk containing explosives, which was being unloaded from a Chicago & Alton passenger train, exploded.

Ross, who is well-known as a porter along the Chicago & Alton line, suffered the loss of his right arm, which was blown off. The extent of McKee's injuries are unknown.

The trunk is owned by an Italian who was evidently going on a hunting trip as fishing tackle and bits of a rifle and hunting coat were found on the Chicago & Alton station platform. Foal play was at first feared but this was later set to rest.

He has given up the position of a traveling salesman for the Springfield Produce Co. POSITION OF ARMIES IS LITTLE CHANGED

Four Weeks of Fighting at Battle of Flanders Fails to Change Positions

CONTRADICTING NEWS

Both Sides Have Been Making
Charges and Both Claim to Have Met With Some Success

BAD WEATHER IMPEDES OPERATIONS

London, Nov. 14.—The battle of Flanders which was brought about by the German attempt to advance to Dunkirk and Calais, on the northern coast of France, commenced just four weeks ago today and despite terrific fighting and the sacrifice of thousands of lives, the two armies still hold virtually the same positions as they did when the first shot was fired.

After taking Antwerp and Ostend the German forces proceeded with little or no opposition as far as Nieuport on the Yser canal. Here they found the Belgian army re-formed as well as a hot fire and they were unable to make any progress. The Belgians then completed the discomfort of the invaders and they commenced an effort to break through the allied line between Dixmude and Ypres.

Have Temporary Successes.
The Germans have had one or two minor, sometimes only temporary, successes, such as the crossing of the canal and the capture of Dixmude; but now, according to official and other reports, while they still hold a part of Dixmude they are back on the east side of the canal and have again slackened their attacks.

The weather, which has been stormy, with heavy rains, has, says the statement of the German general army headquarters, disturbed their operations. This may be true for people who have arrived from across the English channel during the last few days say a high wind has been driving the rain across the open spaces, filling the trenches and making it next to impossible for them to protect themselves.

In spite of the unfavorable conditions both sides have been making charges, and both claim to have met with some success. The Germans again report the capture of a number of prisoners and also that they have repulsed the British and French attacks.

Repulse German Attacks.
The French, who do not record the capture of the prisoners or their own losses, likewise claim to have repulsed the German attacks and to have made progress. Their advance on Bixchoote, which reached the almost unprecedented distance of one kilometer (3,280 feet) for in this battle an advance is measured in yards and not in miles, seems to have been an important one, for if it continues, military observers say, it should relieve the pressure on both Dixmude and Ypres, which are on either side of that town.

From the Franco-Belgian border as far as the French fortress of Verdun, the Germans have resumed their activity and as usual both German and French official accounts claim successes.

Fighting Further Inland.

While the eyes of the world have been on the battle near the North Sea coast there has been some fierce fighting further inland and the Aisne valley, the Argonne forest, and the vicinity of Verdun, have been the scenes of the most sanguinary affairs. Only the north side, however, has been able to make any impression on the other since the Germans won their victory at Vailly, the fruits of which, however, they since have lost.

Further east winter has set in and the mountains where the troops are facing each other are now covered with snow.

The Russians, continuing their enveloping movement around East Prussia, have now entered Rypin, which is west of Soldau and on the line to Thorn; so that they have now almost surrounded Emperor William's northwestern and favorite province.

Just southwest of Rypin, however, the Germans have taken the offensive from Thorn and claim to have inflicted a defeat on the Russians near Wolowek, on the Vistula river.

Make a Stand Behind River.
The Germans after all, seem to have decided to make a stand behind the Warta river, in Russia Poland, for the Russians announce that there have been engagements with the German advance guards between that river and the Vistula. It may be, however, that the mass of the German army, having retired to the borders of Silesia, these engagements were intended only to delay the Russian advance.

Further south the Russians continue to push on to the Austrian fortress of Cracow, which is defended by Austrian troops under German officers.

Fighting continues in the Caucasus.

JACKSONVILLE WALLOPS QUINCY

ANNEXES FOOTBALL GAME BY
SCORE OF 23 TO 0.

J. H. S. Eleven Makes 14 Points in First Five Minutes of Play and Then Eases up Making Last Touch Down One Minute Before Game Closed.

Jacksonville high school football team defeated Quincy high school in a one-sided game Saturday afternoon at Quincy by a score of 23 to 0, before a big crowd. Jacksonville made a touchdown one minute after the game started and another four minutes later. After this they "played horse" and never got busy till the last few minutes of the game when they scored seven other points. The Quincy players stated that they had in a stronger team against Jacksonville than they did against Greenfield, who defeated them by a big score. Grieser, quarter back was the star player of the Quincy lads and he and two other good men did not play in the Greenfield game.

Quincy kicked to Jacksonville and on the second down the ball was in the center of the field. A hole was opened in the Quincy line through which Killbrow was shot and went for a touch down, one minute after the game started. Jacksonville kicked to Quincy, Quincy was held for downs and forced to kick. Jacksonville by line plunges carried the ball to the one yard line and Dick Reynolds was sent over for a touchdown, score 14 to 0. Only five minutes of play had been used.

After this Jacksonville eased up and during the rest of that quarter and the second quarter the ball was carried up and down the field. In the third quarter Quincy outplayed Jacksonville. However, when Quincy got the ball to the 20 yard line Jacksonville held them for downs and the J. H. S. men carried the ball down to the 8 yard line where the quarter ended.

In the third quarter Jacksonville carried the ball to Quincy's one yard line where they were held for downs. Quincy attempted to kick back of goal line when Myers broke through and downed the man for a safety, netting Jacksonville 2 more points, score 16 to 0.

The ball was put in play on the 20 yard line. Killbrow intercepted a forward pass. Jacksonville by end runs carried the ball to the five yard line when Edward Pyatt was sent over for a touch down. Maddox kicked goal, score 23 to 0. The game ended one minute later.

sus between the Russians and the Turks but with what result is not known, as both governments announce victories.

Turkey has issued a statement through Rome placing the blame for the war between the British and Ottoman empires on England, who, she says, complains of Turkey's acquisition of the German cruisers Goeben and Breslau and does not mention anything of her seizure of two Turkish battleships which were being built in England at the outbreak of the war.

Turkey also charges that England did all she could to wreck Turkey and that the British guarantee of integrity could not be regarded seriously because of her occupation of Egypt.

Uneasiness in Germany.

Turkey's threat to preach a holy war is a cause of uneasiness in Germany, as well as in England and in France, close observers of the political situation point out, because of its possible effect on Italy. So far as Egypt is concerned the danger mark seems to have passed as the chiefs of the Ulema, composed of the leading Moslem religious societies, have issued a proclamation urging the Moslems to remain calm, while the Shiels and the Sudans have refrained from taking action regarding Turkey's proclamation of war on the allies.

War News Summarized

Great Britain has suffered an irreparable loss in the death of Field Marshall Lord Roberts which occurred while the greatest of all British soldiers was visiting the Indian troops in France. Lord Roberts had taken a notable part in the present campaign in an advisory capacity and ever his first thoughts were for the betterment of the British soldier.

Reports from the battle fronts, so far as they give any actual idea of the engagements continue to be meager. From day to day the French war office issues its usual announcements telling in general terms of attacks by the Germans and their repulses. The latest says that from the North Sea to Lillie the events of the day have been satisfactory and that the German losses have been heavy and reports also German repulses at various other points.

In the east the Russians according to the official statements from Petrograd are making progress in east Prussia. Berlin admits that the Russians are advancing in Galicia and have occupied several towns.

The Austrian campaign against the Serbians is reported to be progressing rapidly, with the Serbians in retreat.

In the Caucasus the Turkish general staff reports the second line of the Russian defenses have been taken by the Turkish troops, while the defeat of an entire Russian army corps on the Caucasian border on November 12 also is announced.

Russia, on the other hand, claims victory over a number of detachments of Kurdish cavalry south of Karakilishe.

Austrian aeroplanes have dropped bombs on Antivari, the Montenegrin seaport near the Adriatic and the Austrians have come in contact with the Montenegrin army operating in Herzegovina but have met with a repulse.

The Italian council of ministers has appropriated $80,000,000 for new military expenses.

PRESIDENT WILSON RECOGNIZED BY CROWDS ALONG BROADWAY

Distinguished Stroller Forced to Elude Followers by Dodging Through Hotel and Escaping in a Bus.

New York, Nov. 14.—President Wilson took a rest here today, playing golf during the morning at the Piping Rock Club and taking a long automobile ride through Long Island this afternoon. Tonight he was a guest at the home of Col. E. M. House, his personal friend. They discussed legislation the president will recommend to congress in December and appointments he will make soon to the national trade commission.

Attendance at the Fifth Avenue Presbyterian church and dinner at the home of Cleveland H. Dodge at Riverdale will make up the program of the president tomorrow. He will leave for Washington at 5 o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

Crowd Follows President.

The president this evening suggested golf to Col. House and the two started for a stroll along Broadway followed by two secret service men. They had not gone far before the president was recognized and soon the crowd which followed them grew to such proportions that the secret service men sought police aid. At the suggestion of the latter Mr. Wilson was taken into a hotel at one entrance and out at another where a bus was hailed and the distinguished visitor escaped therefrom.

As he was piloted into the hotel President Wilson turned and waving his hand at the surging crowd cried: "Good bye; I'm going to get away from you now!"

Lines Were Transposed.

In an article in Saturday's issue of the Journal regarding the arrest of James Leake on a charge of burglary and larceny, two of the lines were transposed and made part of the article read somewhat different than was intended. The article should have read that "it is charged that the dog was seen in the possession of Mr. Leake while out on hunting November 11, but Mr. Leake denies that he went out on hunting. The issuance of the warrant resulted." Mr. Leake also denies that he has seen anything of the dog.

JUDGE OF BABIES AND CHICKENS

D. T. Heimlich arrived at home Saturday from Mt. Vernon, where he had been to award prizes at a poultry exhibition. There were over 500 "birds" on which he was called to judge and the attendance was good. Besides judging on chickens he was on the awarding committee in a baby show where 14 babies were presented for inspection. The first prize to girl baby was to one of 19 months who at the age of one month was successful on a similar occasion. Judge Heimlich was not called on to award in the dog department though there were some fine specimens of dogs there.

BIRTH RECORD.

Born Saturday noon to Mr. and Mrs. Allen Sturdy of the Lynnville neighborhood, an eight and one half pound son.

WATCHFUL WAITING POLICY UNALTERED

Vera Cruz Will Soon Return to Mexican Control Unless Changes Prevent

HAVE ARRANGED TRUCE

Officials Look Upon Reported Truce of Carranza and Agua Calientes Leaders Hopefully

PORT ORDER TO FUNSTON STANDS

Washington, Nov. 14.—While awaiting with interest news from conflict in Mexico that truce had been arranged by leaders of the Carranza and Agua Calientes claimants to control of the central government, the Washington government allowed its orders to General Funston to stand tonight and Vera Cruz will be returned to Mexican control on November 23, unless some radical change in the situation there prevents. The American expeditionary force at Vera Cruz will embark on that date for Galveston and the Mexican factions be left to work out their own destiny, the policy of watchful waiting having been altered in no respect.

State department officials looked upon the reported truce, however, as a hopeful sign. They believe that if the leaders had been able to bring it about there was good reason to think that it could be extended for a long enough period to permit the Aguas Calientes convention to carry out its avowed purpose and arrange for the election of a provisional president to succeed Gen. Gutierrez, nominated as president ad interim.

Although Secretary Bryan declined to say today to whom Gen. Funston would surrender custody of Vera Cruz, it is believed his instructions are to turn the city over to what ever defacto government is there to receive it. It is not the intention of the Washington government to recognize any faction in Mexico through this transfer. Assurances have been received from both Gen. Carranza and from the Aguas Calientes authorities that the guarantees asked by the American government would be forthcoming and Washington officials feel that their responsibility ends there.

May Oppose Evacuation.

El Paso, Tex., Nov. 14.—Enrique C. Llorente, diplomatic agent to Washington of the Villa faction, said today he believed the Aguas Calientes convention would oppose the evacuation of Vera Cruz by the American forces, decided upon by Washington government. Its accomplishment, he pointed out, probably would deliver the important east coast port to the Carranza government. He expressed the belief, however, that Gen. Candido Aguilar, whose forces dominate the district surrounding the city, would recognize the convention.

War Veteran of Mexican and Civil Wars and Had Record for Bravery—Ninety-second Birthday was Near at Hand.

At the advanced age of 91 years, 3 months and 19 days Major John B. Harris passed away at 4:15 o'clock Saturday morning, at the home of his daughter, Mrs. John Sevier in Waverly where he was taken recently from his home at Brown's Crossing near Island Grove. Major Harris was a member of Col. John J. Hardin's regiment in the Mexican war in 1846 and also went through the civil war and was noted for his bravery, it being said of him that he did not know what fear meant. He was a near neighbor of the late Dr. L. W. Brown and was highly esteemed by that gentleman and his family as an honorable man and a good neighbor. Through his long life Major Harris so lived that he had the admiration of all who knew him.

Major Harris was twice married, two children were born to each of these unions. To his first wife was born a daughter Lou who was married to a Mr. Bixens and a son, William, who died in infancy and their mother preceded the major in death. Mr. and Mrs. Stice lived with the major on the old homestead and his declining years have been kindly cared for by them. The close of his long eventful life was at the home of his daughter whom he had gone to visit in Waverly. Major Harris had many friends in Jacksonville who will learn with sorrow of the passing of this pioneer who was born so many years since in the state of Tennessee and who came to reside among them three score years ago and who was a "man among men."

Funeral services will be held at the homestead at Brown's Crossing at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon and interment will be made in the Island Grove cemetery.

The Way to Bring Business.

A Franklin man who was in Jacksonville Saturday to attend the road meeting, offered a bit of friendly criticism to Jacksonville merchants and the Chamber of Commerce. His thought was this: that the business men of Jacksonville would reap a greater benefit if they busied themselves with an effort to secure good roads leading from Jacksonville to the smaller towns in the county rather than making an effort to secure a road which will eventually connect Jacksonville and Springfield. His theory is that such a road will take business away from Jacksonville, while improved highways between this city and the smaller towns will bring business in. He said further that the business men and residents of Franklin have well under way their plans to improve the roads leading into that town, not with hard paving materials but with dragging and oil improvements.

In this connection, by the way, there is a growing sentiment in Morgan county among men interested in the good roads movement to try out oiled roads in the country districts. Oiled roads within the limits of some of the smaller towns of the county and on some Jacksonville streets have given very excellent service. It is argued that while the hard road movement has begun in earnest that it will be long, long years before there are many miles of hard roads in this county and that meanwhile some cheaper manner of road improvement should be used. The simple method of dragging will accomplish much and in districts where it is desirable to make still further improvements it is maintained that with the funds available from the road tax that the average district by using economy methods could readily spare a considerable amount of money each year for road oiling. Oiled roads and dragged roads from Jacksonville to the smaller towns within a radius of 15 or 20 miles would mean a great deal of additional business for Jacksonville merchants.

Library Extension Plans.

Recently discussed plans for extending the territory of the Jacksonville public library bring to mind the traveling library plan of Wisconsin by which citizens all over the state are served by the large libraries of the State Historical society and the University of Wisconsin. The free library commission, which has the matter in charge, announced its intention recently of circulating books by parcels post and it will now be possible for the most isolated farmer to draw upon the half million volumes of the big libraries mentioned. When the country dweller wishes to draw a book by parcels post he sends a letter to the commission enclosing the proper postage and containing a statement from some one in authority stating that the borrower is a responsible citizen. Lists of books available are furnished free so that the country people are not left entirely to their own devices.

A CASS CO. SPRINTER.

Yesterday Robert Hall of Virginia was in the city, transacting business in the Avers Bank building. He was going out on South Main street to see his sister Mrs. E. I. W. Tomlin. He saw the car standing on South Main ready to go and Mr. Hall took a sprint that would have been a credit to a freshman in college and made the car. The word "venerable" hardly applies to him, although he is 52 years of age.

ACTS AS SCOUT.

George Tandy was sent by North Carolina university to act as scout for the institution at the game between Virginia and Swartmore, played in Philadelphia Saturday. In the last game George played in against Virginia Military Institute he made a drop kick from the 37 yard line. His team won 30 to 7.

MANY ARE TO ATTEND ODD FELLOWS MEETING

SESSIONS ARE TO CONVEY IN SPRINGFIELD MONDAY.

Several Jacksonville People are on Committees—Mrs. Tandy Will Be Advanced to President of Rebekah Assembly.

A large delegation of Jacksonville Odd Fellows and Rebekahs will go to Springfield Monday to attend the sessions of the sixty-fifth grand encampment, seventy-seventh grand lodge and thirteenth Rebekah Assembly.

The delegates from the local lodges are Arthur Cobb of Ili No. 4, Ralph Crabtree of Urania No. 243, W. C. Howe of Ridgely Encampment No. 9, T. S. Martin of Temple Encampment No. 19, Mrs. Lillie Robinson of Rebekah lodge No. 13 and Mrs. Belle Hocking of Rebekah lodge No. 625. Other members who will go from here are Mrs. Myrtle Tandy, vice-president of the Rebekah assembly who will be advanced to president; Mrs. Sarah Bayha, who will go to assist Mae E. Crowl, chief of examiners and instructors; Miss Alice McCullough, who fills the place of R. S. to vice-president Mrs. Agnes Kewey, of the executive committee; A. B. Williamson on the state of order committee and Orien E. Tandy, a member of the mileage and per diem committee. Mrs. Amelia Warner, Mrs. Ella Watson Reeve, Miss Ella Hunter, Miss Pearl Jaeger, Mrs. Nettie Brown, F. J. Heintz, P. G. Stein, E. E. Henderson, Andrew Russell, H. H. Summers, Carl Henderson, Carl Weber, J. J. Reese, Thomas Hughes and J. Marshall Miller also expect to attend. Jacksonville was especially favored this year with appointments on the various committees.

Hundreds of delegates from all parts of the state will be present at the sessions, which will open Monday and continue through Thursday. The new Odd Fellows temple, which is now under construction at Springfield is expected to be the scene of special ceremonies. The first session of the grand lodge will be held Tuesday afternoon for the purpose of conferring grand lodge degrees. The Grand Encampment is to open Monday evening in the senate chamber of the state house and will adjourn late Tuesday. The Patriarchal, Golden Rule and Royal Purple degrees will be exemplified by degree teams during the day.

H. M. BLOOD
Leading Candidate for Grand Warden

Sessions of the Rebekah assembly will be held in the First Christian church and will open Monday evening with an entertainment for the public.

As usual chief interest in the election for Grand Lodge officers centers in the selection of a grand warden and both downstate and upstate candidates are clamoring for this honor. The leading candidate of the upstate faction appears to be H. M. Blood of Chicago and A. Ois Archold of Quincy is making a hard fight for the place. David J. Dunser of Elgin, C. A. Robins of Dixon, William Melville of Chicago, C. A. Young of Chicago, Oscar Wiley of Paxton and O. A. Ledbetter of Elizabethtown are the other candidates for this office. M. P. Berry of Carthage and William M. Groves of Springfield are in the race for the office of grand treasurer, which was made vacant by the death of Thomas B. Needles of Nashville. John H. Sikes is to be re-elected secretary.

Among the business matters to be taken up is an amendment offered last year by which the convention may be removed from Springfield by a majority vote instead of a two-thirds vote, as is now required. It is expected that this motion, which was defeated at the last session, will be beaten again.

vancement, William H. Pease the present deputy grand master will be come grand master, and John H. Crowder the present grand warden will become deputy grand master. The same process of advancement is followed in the grand encampment. Samuel Watson of Champaign will in all probability be re-elected grand treasurer. A fight is on for the office of junior warden, with Charles W. Kiser of Chicago, the leading candidate.

PROFESSOR FRANK L. BRISTOW DIES SUDDENLY IN KENTUCKY

Former Resident of Jacksonville Expires from Heart Trouble—Graduated from Illinois College.

A recent issue of the Cincinnati Times-Star contains an account of the death of Professor Frank L. Bristow, a former resident, who expired quite suddenly at his home in Covington, Ky., November 11. Concerning the death the paper has the following:

"Professor Frank L. Bristow, a prominent musician of Covington, Ky., and a candidate for school commissioner of Covington, in the election last week, died suddenly at his home, No. 1051 Russell street, Covington, shortly before noon Wednesday. Prof. Bristow attended a church supper Tuesday evening and on returning home became ill. Dr. Furnish was summoned and worked with him most of the night, leaving him somewhat improved in the morning. Just before noon Professor Bristow attempted to walk across the room, but fell into a chair and expired. He was 71 years old and for years was a teacher of music in the public schools of Covington. Dr. Furnish reported that death was due to heart trouble."

The box social given by the Harmon's Dry Goods Store

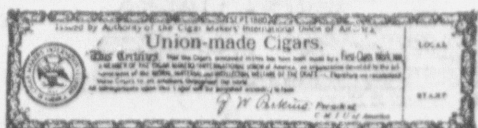

HERE are some statistics gathered from the records of the Cigar Makers International Union. They are interesting at this time. They show the effects of the economic organization, which uses this label.

In 1890, 49 per cent of the amount expended for sick benefit went to those suffering from tuberculosis.

In 1910 the total amount expended for sick benefits was $189,438.59, of which amount about 21 5-10 per cent, or $40,729.30, was paid to members suffering from tuberculosis.

In 1911 the total expended for sick benefit amounted to $201,296.03, of which amount 20 1-10 per cent, or $40,460.50, was paid to members suffering from tuberculosis. This shows a reduction of 28 9-10 per cent in 21 years.

These figures are based on a general average, while as a matter of fact, those suffering from tuberculosis are more generally sick, and hence more liable to draw sick benefit, so that the average amount is necessarily and reasonably not fully covered in the figures given.

EDMUND BLACKBURN CELEBRATED 81ST. BIRTHDAY SATURDAY

Surprise Dinner Party Given in Honor of Long Time Morgan County Resident.

Saturday marked the eighty-first birthday of Edmund Blackburn and in honor of the important anniversary a number of his nieces and nephews planned a surprise party. Early in the day the relatives assembled at the Blackburn home six miles northwest of Jacksonville, taking with them the good things necessary for a big dinner. Mr. Blackburn was taken genuinely by surprise, but he made his guests thrice welcome. He had received not even an inkling that the company was planned, and really seemed to enjoy the occasion more than if he had known about it in advance. The company included thirty-eight people, all of them relatives except Rev. and Mrs. W. M. Boyd. After the excellent dinner had been served some time was spent in talking over family history and the members of the company joined in singing songs especially dear to Mr. Blackburn. He received a large number of congratulatory letters and also various gifts from friends who have known him through the years, and altogether the anniversary was observed in a way which made it notable in his life.

Mr. Blackburn has lived in Morgan county for more than half a century. He came with his parents from England in an early day and all his years since that time have been spent in the Ebenezer neighborhood. The flight of time has not greatly weakened him physically nor lessened him mentally, and today, though one year past the unusual mark of four score, he is still strong and vigorous. No man in Morgan county occupies a higher place in the estimation of his friends and those who know him best, and certainly no man is more entitled to this esteem. His is a character strongly grounded upon right principles and he represents a type of manhood which is especially admirable in this day. No good movement in his own community or in a wider sphere has been lacking his support. Today he stands a fine example of the "old school of citizenship," a man strong in moral courage, firm in Christian faith, still keen in business insight, old only in years.

The company included Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Blackburn, Rev. and Mrs. W. M. Boyd, Lulu and Ella Blackburn, Mrs. George Blackburn, Misses Florence and Della Blackburn, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Walter, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Martin and son, John, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Dinwiddie, son Edward and daughter, Helen, Mr. and Mrs. Fletcher Blackburn and son William, Mrs. J. S. Campbell and daughter Lois, Frank Masters, Misses Ethel and Fannie Masters, Joyce and Fred Masters, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Ford, Miss Stella Blackburn, Miss Maria Walters, Miss Idella Walton, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Walton, Helen and Billy Walton.

EXPLOSION SATURDAY MORNING STOPS WORK OF BORING WELL

Water in New Shaft Now Stands at Level of Old Wells—Commissioner Brennan Will Have Casing Drawn Monday—May Have to Bore Anew.

The work of boring the new well on the Widenham-Daub land was brought to a sudden standstill Saturday forenoon when an explosion occurred which forced gravel upward to the height of fifteen feet, ten inches and caused water to arise in the boring to about forty-two feet from the surface, the level maintained in the old wells. The workmen were drilling at the hundred foot level about eleven o'clock when the explosion took place. The gravel arose almost immediately and all efforts proved vain to lower by bailing the height of the water which followed.

WOMAN'S CLUB HEARS MRS. BRIGHT

SPLENDID ADDRESS ON PARENT-TEACHERS' ASSOCIATION

Vice-President of National Congress of Mothers, Principal Speaker—Reports Heard and Other Business Transacted.

A very interesting meeting of the Woman's club was held in the auditorium of the new grammar school building, Saturday afternoon, at which meeting, Mrs. Orville P. Bright of Chicago, vice president of the National Congress of Mothers, made a most helpful address. The various parent-teachers' associations of the city were invited as well as the parents and there was a large audience present.

Mrs. M. H. Havenhill, president of the Woman's club, was in charge of the meeting. Special music had been provided for the occasion by the High School orchestra and they acquitted themselves in a complimentary manner. There was a string quartet composed of Miss Helen Sorrells, Harold Dunlap, Paul Morrison and Earl Briscoe, which gave a splendid number.

The occasion was also known as President's day and this fact was spoken of by Mrs. Havenhill. The minutes of the May morning breakfast, of the October luncheon and the various business sessions intervening were read and approved. Mrs. E. P. Cleary gave an outline of the District Federation meeting, which was held in Petersburg last May. Following this Mrs. J. H. Danskin told in a very bright and interesting manner of the recent meeting of the State Federation of Woman's clubs in Springfield.

There was an exhibition of a great array of maps showing the tuberculosis survey which had been made of Illinois. These maps were shown at the recent meeting in Springfield and were the occasion of many favorable comments as to their significance. Mrs. Eugenia Rotter Curry of Mt. Sterling who was a guest of the club yesterday is chairman of the public health committee of the State Federation. She had the appointment of a committee of three to arrange for this survey, and she appointed Dr. Josephine Milligan to look after the department of tuberculosis. Much credit is due Dr. Milligan for the excellence of this survey.

Mrs. Bright's Address.
Mrs. Havenhill in very fitting words introduced Mrs. Bright, who was cordially applauded by the audience as she arose to speak. It will be remembered that Mrs. Bright was in Jacksonville a year ago at the State Congress of Mothers and was heard in a most excellent address at that time. She spoke yesterday especially upon the line of the parent-teachers' association and of the great place it filled in the world's activity. She preceded her remarks by giving a short history of the parent-teachers' association, which had its origin some 18 years ago at a meeting of the National Congress of Mothers held in Washington, D. C. Heretofore, the Woman's club had dealt with a great many phases in literary and other educational lines but had not given much time as to its helpfulness to children. It was at a luncheon held at this time that the question was brought up as to what way the homes could be made better and the parent assist in the work. It was at this meeting that the parent-teachers' association was formed. It was the consensus of opinion that not only was the co-operation of mothers needed but that the fathers and teachers should be taken in as a part of this great work. Hence, the mothers club had added to it the parent-teachers' association. The association has learned that the best place to carry on this work is in conjunction with the public schools and it has been along this line that it has reached such a plane of importance as it holds today. The parent-teachers' association which at first seemed up hill work has now grown to be successful and is dealing in all kinds of endeavor for the child's welfare.

Parents Need Instruction.
Mrs. Bright said, "I feel that the homes are not as well managed, not the parents are as well equipped as our teachers. Before a school accepts a teacher she must have thorough preparation and she must continue to show this preparation. On the other hand, parents have no examinations to pass, there are no requirements, it makes no difference whether they are educated or whether they are ignorant. The wisest of us know vast little the manner of rearing our children. The parents are sending their children to our schools for us to teach them manual training, domestic science, music and other things and now the parents say we are coming too that you may also instruct us. No longer are the teachers waiting for the parents to make the initiative but they are doing that themselves.

Beginning of Association.
Mrs. Bright stated that she had been in the parent-teachers' work for over 15 years and had had a wide experience in dealing with parents and teachers. She related several instances where parent teachers associations had been formed and of the great good they had accomplished. She also told of the association work in the larger cities and compared the work of each. She said that each community had its own peculiar problems to solve and that the members of each organization would have to study out what they felt was the best course to pursue. She warned the parent-teachers' associations against letting others' things come into the association that were not vitally connected with it. She showed in a great many ways how the association could be a help to the community. She illustrated this by the moving picture shows, saying that a great many of the objectionable shows had been limited through the efforts of the women and this had not only been a benefit to the children themselves but went a long way towards building up the moral atmosphere of the community. By so doing the parent-teachers' association lives not for itself but passes on its goodness to others. In many places the social life of the school has been bettered, evenings have been utilized to a good purpose and the organizations within the school have been improved.

The Newer Movement.
In speaking of a newer movement of the parent-teachers' association, Mrs. Bright said: "In Chicago, for a long time, people outside of our association were always attempting to get us to do something that was not always in line with what we were trying to do. We also found that some associations had hit upon some particular good line of endeavor that the other association knew nothing about. The result of all this was the organization of a central council. Its membership was composed of the presidents of all the associations, the officers and the chairmen of the various committees. This council holds regular meetings and outlines policies most helpful to all. This enables one association to become acquainted with some movement that has been beneficial to another organization. I think that in a city the size of Jacksonville that such a central council could be organized and prove most helpful. We learn from each other a good place for the parents to be educated is in the parent-teachers' association. When we bring about this state of affairs for which we are striving, our reform schools instead of needing more rooms for housing unmanageable children, would dwindle away. We are making, if you please, a children's trust, and by so doing we are going to give to every child born a fair chance in the world."

Holds Social Hour.
At the close of the most excellent address, a social hour followed in which the friends were given an opportunity to meet Mrs. Bright. The students of the 2nd and 3rd year classes of the high school in domestic science under the direction of Miss Ella Newman served light refreshments. The girls who did the serving were Misses Maud Brown, Pearl Allison, Helen Obermeyer, Gladys Harvey, Helen Allcott, Velma Whitlock, June Pond, Mildred Patton, Mary Louise Newman.

ATLANTA WAS BURNED JUST FIFTY YEARS AGO

Today Marks Anniversary of Beginning of General Sherman's Famous March to the Sea.

Atlanta, Ga., Nov. 14.—Fifty years ago tomorrow, November 15th, General Sherman started from Atlanta on his famous "March to the Sea." Before he evacuated the city cutting loose his army from any base, he burned a section of Atlanta on Nov. 14th.

The Atlanta Constitution takes occasion to editorially compare the burning of Atlanta and the destruction of Louvain. The Constitution says in part:

"Apologists for Louvain cite Sherman's destruction of Atlanta as a precedent and justification. But Atlanta and Louvain are not instances of the same rule of war. Sherman expelled the inhabitants before he destroyed the city. He looted neither Atlanta nor Louvain afterward. He took no hostages, shot no citizens. He burned Atlanta for a military reason, not out of revenge or in order to terrorize a population. "Sherman could not hold Atlanta. He was about to abandon it as both a outpost and base. But it was a strategic railway center and had been a military manufactory and depot for the South. To make it valueless to the enemy, he burned the city, and his act was justified by the laws of war and approved by his own military expediency. "Sherman said that war is hell. He meant that war is hell inherently by its own nature. He did not mean to make war a worse hell. Its inherent hellishness was enough for him. He waged war in the American fashion, the humane fashion. He was a kindly American himself, as Grant was, as Lee was. He had no kinship to a European conqueror and no hatred for the Southern people. "The Southern people naturally enough complain of Atlanta and Louvain. They cherish to this day an animosity against Sherman, as they do not against Grant, although the latter ordered the wasting of the Valley of Virginia. Sherman did, in his own phrase, bring war home to the South. He burned Atlanta, and Columbia was destroyed in the process of his Carolinian invasion. No doubt also, some outrages were committed by men of his who got out of hand. But considering what war is, what the veteran soldier becomes, the South had really no bill of complaint."

CHICAGOANS FIGHT NEW TUNNEL CHARGES.

Chicago, Nov. 14.—The business interests of the city will protest before the Interstate Commerce Commission hearing here next Monday, against the tunnel and lighterage increases that have been proposed by the railroads.

Chicago has 58 miles of tunnel beneath its downtown streets, and this underground line; built by the Illinois Telephone Company in extending its conduits, carries some 20 per cent of the freight of the city. The railroads have filed tariffs discontinuing the free service they have given through the tunnel. The business interests, in protesting against the new charges, declare that any rate for tunnel service would be so high that they would be compelled to use teams instead of the tunnel.

Should the Commission uphold the roads, Chicago's already congested traffic problem, it is said, will be highly complicated by having the underground traffic cast on the surface. The Chicago Association of Commerce has collected the evidence which will be used before the Commission.

ROBERTS LEAVES THE MINT.

Washington, Nov. 14.—George E. Roberts, director of the United States mint, leaves his post today to go into banking in New York. He was formerly editor of a newspaper in Iowa and State Printer there. He has been director of the mint since 1898, with the exception of three years, when he was president of the Commercial Bank of Chicago. His fellow-officials in the Treasury Department gave him a cordial send-off today.

SIMPLE WAY TO END DANDRUFF

Stop Falling Hair and Itching Scalp.

There is one sure way that has never failed to remove dandruff at once, and that is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, common liquid arvon from any drug store (this is all you will need), apply it at night when retiring, use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve, and entirely destroy, every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

If you value your hair, you should get rid of dandruff at once, for nothing destroys the hair so quickly. It not only starves the hair and makes it fall out, but it makes it stringy, straggly, dull, dry, brittle and lifeless, and everybody notices it.

An Old Story.

The winter's approaching, the sleet and the storm will soon be encroaching on latitudes warm. The snowflakes are leaking from clouds that are gray, the winds will come shrieking from Hudson's cheap bay. Then peace to the worker who toiled in the heat, and woe to the shirker who loafed in the street! The man who kept toiling in June and July, has cabbage for boiling, and chickens to fry; with grub in hisarder, the storm he may dare: "Dad bust you, blow harder—it's little I care!" With coal in the cellar, he says to the storm, "Get busy, old fellow—I'm comfy and warm!" But what of the neighbor who's not a live wire, who looks on all labor as punishment dire? He loafs through the summer when farmer and clerk, and painter and plumber are doing their work. He sits in the shadow and dreams by the day of some Eldorado where loafing will pay. And then when the winter is doing its chore, he goes like a sprinter from door unto door, assistance beseeching—some prunes or a pie: "My children," he's seecching, "all threaten to die!" The generous teller, the kindest of men, takes out from his boiler the wing of a hen: "Give that to the kiddies," he says, "and by heck, I'll kill some more biddies to keep them on deck!"

ILLINI DEFEAT MAROONS 21 TO 7

POGUE AND CLARK STARS OF SENSATIONAL BATTLE

STATE UNIVERSITY ATHLETES OVERCOME CHICAGO'S EARLY LEAD AND IN FINAL QUARTER SCORE WINNING TOUCHDOWNS—RESULTS OF OTHER FOOTBALL BATTLES.

Champaign, Nov. 14.—The Illini practically clinched the conference football championship today when Bob Zuppke's great machine, headed by his wonderful pair of runners, Pogue and Clark, defeated Chicago by 21 to 7.

Illini's victory came as a tensely dramatic finale to a sensational battle in which the Illini came from behind, fought an uphill fight, for Chicago scored early, and maintained a lead until the third period, when the score was evened.

Then came the fourth period with the score 7 to 7. Illini's brilliant attack gradually wore away the stubborn Maroon defense, spectacular runs by Pogue and Clark took the ball to the Maroon five yard line, where Pogue shot over. On the next kick-off "Potsy" Clark caught Des Jardien's punt on the Illini five yard line and ran through the entire Chicago team for a touchdown—a feat that sent the spectators into a final spasm of delight. That ended the game.

The line-up:

Yale Defeats Tigers, 19 to 14.
Princeton, N. J., Nov. 14.—The Yale football team defeated Princeton's eleven here today by 19 to 14 in a game which for thrilling climax rivalled modern stage craft at its best.

Beaten back and scored upon with apparent ease, during the first three periods of play, the Tigers tore loose with a smashing attack in the final fifteen minutes of the game and fairly riddled the Eli's line.

Twice the Orange and Black swept across the Blue goal line and were fighting desperately for the third touchdown, which would have given them victory when the timer's call ended Princeton's chances and Yale's apprehensions.

Captain Ballin was, as usual, a tower of strength, both when his team had the ball and when endeavoring to check Yale's advance. c. Treutmann also played a splendid game, both these men frequently penetrating the Blue's backfield and stopping rushes or going down field on kicks on a line with their ends. In the last quarter Dickerman and Glick showed remarkable ability in line plunging and end runs, frequently carrying several Yale tacklers from one to three yards before they were finally swept from their feet.

For Yale, Legore and Seovil were the stars from an offensive standpoint. Legore also figured prominently in the forward passing, his long spiral heaves to Brann and Ainsworth at times reaching the proportions of a kick. Wilson hauled his team cleverly and selected plays with splendid judgment. In the line Captain Talbott played a game which proved that he has fully recovered from his injuries.

Cornell Outclasses Michigan.
Ann Arbor, Mich., Nov. 14.—Cornell clearly outclassed Michigan today and won 28 to 13, thereby closing for the Wolverines their most disastrous season in point of defeats, since Fielding H. Yost has coached the eleven. Not during the eleven years Yost has been at Michigan has the Maize and Blue eleven lost three games in one season. Of ten four intercollegiate battles this year, Michigan won but one game, one Pennsylvania contest.

Barrett, the Cornell quarterback, was the brightest star in the game. Time and again he eluded the Michigan tackle for long runs and his last play was a thrilling dash from his own forty yard line through the whole Wolverine eleven for the final touchdown of the game. As he fell over the goal line, Splawn threw him so hard he had to be carried from the field. Schuler and Phillips also went through the Michigan line for many yards. Phillips got three of the visitors' four touchdowns. Matibetsch was practically the only successful ground gainer for Michigan.

Minnesota Defeats Wisconsin.
Minneapolis, Minn., Nov. 14.—Opening up after the first half with a diversified attack that at times fairly bewildered their heavier opponents, the Minnesota team today defeated Wisconsin by 14 to 3. The game was replete with forward passes, driving line plunges and excellent punting.

The playing of Solon, Minnesota's speedy halfback, was remarkable. Repeatedly he was called on to pound against the rigid Wisconsin line, often breaking through for effective gains. Hamilton, Bierman and Diederich were the other Minnesota stars. While Bellows, Cummings, Smith and Kreuse played well as well for Wisconsin.

Generosity honors must go to Diederich. Neither side showed a conspicuous advantage in kicking. Minnesota displayed superiority with the forward pass, eight of which were successful and proved excellent ground gainers. Wisconsin made four successful forward passes.

Notre Dame Massacres Indians.
Chicago, Nov. 14.—The crippled Carlisle Indians were no match for Notre Dame in the game played here today at Comiskey Park, the final score being: Notre Dame 48; Carlisle 6. Welsh, the Chippewa, quarterback, was badly injured in the course of the last quarter. He was taken in an unconscious condition to a hospital, where an examination was begun in fear that the base of his skull had been fractured.

The punting of Coffall, who scored a field goal from the 33 yard line and ran, together with those of Eichenlaub, Pliska, Bergman and Kelleher and the returns of punts by Bergman were features of the Notre Dame defense.

Captain Calac was titanic for the Indians, although the whole team fought gamely and were badly battered when they left the field.

Brown Holds Harvard Scoreless.
Cambridge, Mass., Nov. 14.—Harvard's second and third string of players, with one or two regulars were held to a scoreless tie by Brown today. The Crimson men showed marked superiority, both on offense and defense. They were six times inside of Brown's twenty yard line, only to be thrown back by the overabundance of inexperienced forwards, fumbles by the backs and poor field goal kicking. Twice the ball went to Brown on downs.

Navy Wins Pretty Game.
Annapolis, Md., Nov. 14.—Navy defeated Colby by 31 to 21 today in one of the cleanest and prettiest football games ever seen at Annapolis. The visitors were virtuous whirlwinds in the first two periods, piling up 21 points to the sailors 10 but open playing varied by substantial line plunges and right half back Lowrey's eight yard sprint for a score netted their tallies.

Hightower Makes Only Score.
Evanston, Ill., Nov. 14.—Wilbur Hightower spent most of this week in a hospital but today wearing the Purple in the game against Purdue, made the only touchdown credited to Northwestern this season in a conference game. The purple score came in the second quarter and for the remainder of the game Purdue ran all over the Methodists winning by 34 to 6.

Dartmouth Defeats Pennsylvania.
Philadelphia, Pa., Nov. 14.—The Dartmouth football team defeated Pennsylvania here today by 41 to 13. The highest score ever registered against a Red and Blue team on a Franklin field. Pennsylvania was outplayed in every department of play. Although Dartmouth did not score until the second period the Green's goal was never in danger, the play being in Pennsylvania territory throughout the game.

"CHRISTIAN SCIENCE."

In reply to article by "Lycurgus" in yesterday's paper it is taken for granted that by "Young Timothy" the writer is meant. He is willing to answer in the interest of truth and not for the purpose of discussion.

"Lycurgus" speaks about "lunatics made at the enemy" by myself. Permit me to say that for obvious reasons the sermon referred to was the first sermon I have read during the ten years I have been preaching Christ's gospel. About fourteen pages of that typewritten sermon were devoted to a logical presentation of the matter in proving that Mrs. Eddy's "sanitary system" is neither Christian, or scientific. Only about half of a page was devoted to Mrs. Eddy's personal life, and that with an apology for such utterances from a Christian pulpit. Infidelity to the truth and to the interests of the public made this reference necessary, and though "Lycurgus" says we should not "cast stones" (quoting Christ's words, Christ said "by their fruits ye shall know them," and the public ought to be more fully informed of some of the "fruits").

In the half page reference to Mrs. Eddy's life I included this, that Mrs. Eddy had three husbands. Two of these men died, the third was divorced from her. I asked a friend why Mrs. Eddy let those two husbands die if sickness and death are unreal, and the answer was that she wanted to die, and the third rather than die was divorced.

In regard to Mrs. Eddy's fixing up her editions so frequently, Paul never re-wrote his letter to the Romans. Mark did not reedit his gospel. Christ never withdrew his sermon on the mount to give the people a more perfect form. Mrs. Eddy did these things right along. Her earlier editions were most ungrammatical and in then the English language frequently was murdered.

Whatever attitude others may have to the writings of the Word of God, those messages as they left the pen of their writers were final—not so with Mrs. Eddy.

Many other things might be said about the "sanitary system," and if needed, will be said. Enough for the present to give the above explanation as an answer to "Lycurgus."

PLAN TO AID SUFFERING BELGIANS IS EXPLAINED
Dollar Christmas Fund Backed by Many Well Known Men—Money Will Be Called to Europe December 20th.

The treasurer of the Dollar Christmas Fund, which is designed to aid the suffering Belgians, has issued the following statement explaining the matter:

The co-operation of our fellow countrymen is asked to alleviate the sufferings of countless thousands of Belgians during the coming winter. It is a tremendous task, the Dollar Christmas Fund of which I am Treasurer and which is backed by many well known public men is working with other organizations to avert starvation which threatens many.

It is only by widespread and generous support and by personal appeal through the press that we can hope to achieve success. Today hundreds of thousands of Belgians are homeless and penniless refugees. Thousands of civilians have met a miserable death. The whole apparatus of economic life in field or factory or office has been wrecked and ruined so that the future of Belgium is altogether beyond prophesy.

There are many ways in which you can help to avert the agony of suffering which confronts helpless Belgians during the coming winter. You can send a donation to our fund or you can apply to our Secretary, Percy Bullen, 66 Broadway, New York for a collecting card. He will be glad to issue same to any responsible person enclosing personal references. Churches, Chapels, Clubs and Societies can assist by writing for our collecting list. Entertainment committees and places of recreation may render great help by sending in the proceeds of benefit performances. In all these ways friends everywhere are assisting nobly.

All the money received will be called to Europe before Dec. 20th. It is our ambition to see that no necessitous Belgian man, woman or child is destitute of food or shelter at Christmas.

Many heads of families have promised to "pass the plate" for the homeless Belgians before dinner on Thanksgiving Day. A few cents from each household will surely be remembered by the beneficiaries long after the war has ceased and no man's Thanksgiving or Christmas day will be the less happy because in some cases the gift may entail some measure of personal sacrifice.

Let us remember that no little nation in the world's long history has been more grievously stricken yet no people can raise their heads more proudly from the dust. The crown of thorns is still a crown! Help us as best you can and please help quickly. "Belgian needs are appalling" says a cablegram I have received from London today, "and conditions baffle description."

"Finest Heating Stove
in the World"

Have You Seen This Poster?

It Tells the Story of a Wonderful Heating Stove

We wanted you to get acquainted with the Favorite Base Burner—that's why we had the city covered with these beautiful colored posters that you see everywhere.

We knew that if you once became familiar with the superior points of the Favorite as compared with other base burners—learned that it actually has no equal in beauty, durability, and fuel-economy—you would buy no other heating stove.

The Favorite will keep every part of your house warm all winter, and do it with from 2 to 3 tons of coal. Every square inch of this unequalled stove radiates volumes of heat which constantly circulates throughout the home, maintaining an even temperature, night and day.

The Favorite is built in a plant erected especially for the production of fine stoves. Only expert workmen are allowed to take part in its construction. Sixty years of stove experience are concentrated in it.

The many exclusive features that make the Favorite get more warmth and satisfaction, too.

Here is Our Offer

Put the Favorite in your home. Try it for thirty days, two months, all winter, if you want to. Then, if you do not find that everything we have said of it is true, we will take back the stove, and refund your money. Can you think of a fairer proposition than that?

We could not afford to make this offer if we did not KNOW that the Favorite would back us up and do just what we claim for it. But we are positive that after you once tried the Favorite you would not part with it for twice what it cost you, if you could not get another just like it.

If money counts—if comfort counts—if the health and happiness of your family count—you cannot afford to buy or use any heating stove but the Favorite.

CATTLE FEEDERS

Woods' Improved Grain Softener

Pat. Applied for 100 bu. size.

This wonderful device for softening grain, or cooking it will enable you to feed cattle without hogs following them, as the cattle digest all they eat when made digestible. If you have hogs you can feed them the soup of the corn, if not give it to your calves, or cattle.

I find everything on the place likes this mush even the chickens do well on it, and they lay more eggs if fed on hot mush, with a little meat scraps mixed in it.

We can make a separate coil of pipe and place inside the furnace to heat the drinking water, without any trouble. This can be put to one side or used as a part of the grate where the hot coals lay on it all the time. This mush is the very thing to fatten poor horses on. It equals feeding green corn to them and is also great for dairy cows, makes them produce 1-4 more milk.

Yours for producing more beef and pork,

LAXATIVE FOR OLD PEOPLE—"CASCARETS"

Salts, Calomel, Pills, Act on Bowels Like Pepper Acts in Nostrils.

Get a 10 cent box now. Most old people must give to the bowels some regular help, else they suffer from constipation. The condition is natural as it is for old people to walk slowly. For age is never so active as youth. The muscles are less elastic. And the bowels are muscles.

So all old people need Cascarets. One might as well refuse to aid weak eyes with glasses as to neglect this gentle aid to weak bowels. The bowels must be kept active. This is important at all ages, but never so much as at fifty.

Age is not a time for harsh physics. Youth may occasionally wish the bowels into activity. But a lash can't be used every day. What the bowels of the old need is a gentle and natural tonic. One that can be constantly used without harm. The only such tonic is Cascarets, and they cost only 10 cents per box at any drug store. They work while you sleep. —advertisement.

EAT LESS AND TAKE

SALT FOR KIDNEYS

Take a Glass of Salts if your Back Hurts or Bladder Bothers.

The American men and women must guard constantly against kidney trouble, because we eat too much and all our food is rich. Our blood is filled with uric acid which the kidneys strive to filter out, they weaken from overwork, become sluggish; the eliminative tissues clog and the result is kidney trouble, bladder weakness and a general decline in health.

When your kidneys feel like lumps of lead, your back hurts or the urine is cloudy full of sediment or you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night; if you suffer with sick headache or dizzy, nervous spells, acid stomach, or you have rheumatism when the weather is bad, get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. These famous salts are made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with trifolium, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate clogged kidneys; to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure, makes a delicious effervescent lithia-water beverage, and belongs in every home, because nobody can make a mistake by having a good kidney flushing any time.

CHICAGO CHURCH CELEBRATES. Chicago, Nov. 14.—St. James Church, the first Episcopal church established in Chicago, will tomorrow celebrate its eightieth anniversary. Five women and a lone man met in 1834 and organized the parish, and for eighty years it has been the place of worship for many families whose names figure prominently in the history of the city. An auctioneer's platform was the first pulpit, and the wall decorations were the auctioneer's notices. Many years ago the church was the scene of a trial, when Rev. William F. Walker was ousted because he often carried a rifle on Sunday for game-shooting purposes.

HUMAN HEALTH AND THE FOOT-AND-MOUTH DISEASE

The Danger of Contaminated Milk Spreading the Disease Overcome by Quarantine and Pasteurization.

Washington, Nov. 13.—The anxiety that has been expressed in several quarters in regard to the effect upon human health of the present outbreak of the foot and mouth disease is regarded by Government authorities as somewhat exaggerated. The most common fear is that the milk supply might become contaminated, but in view of the precautions that the local authorities in the infected areas are very generally taking, there is comparatively little danger of this. Milk from infected farms is not permitted to be shipped at all. The only danger is, therefore, that before the disease has manifested itself some infected milk might reach the market. For this reason, experts in the U. S. Department of Agriculture recommend pasteurization. As a matter of fact, however, pasteurization is recommended by the department anyway for all milk that is not very high grade and from tuberculin tested cows.

It has been demonstrated by experiments which have been made in Denmark and Germany that pasteurization will serve as a safeguard against contagion from the foot and mouth disease as readily as it does against typhoid fever, but in any event it must be thoroughly done—the milk must be heated to 145 degrees Fahrenheit and held at this temperature for 30 minutes.

In this country the foot and mouth disease has been so rare that there are few recorded cases of its transmission to human beings. In New England and in 1908 in a few instances eruptions were found in the mouths of children which were believed to have been caused by contaminated milk. In both of these outbreaks, the sale of milk was stopped as soon as the disease was found among the cattle. As long, therefore, as the disease can be confined by rigid quarantine to certain specified areas, the danger from this source is very small. Should the pestilence spread all over this country and become as general as it has been at various times in large areas in Europe, the problem would become more serious. Under any circumstances, however, pasteurization would be an efficient remedy. Where pasteurization is not possible, and where there is any reason to suspect that the disease may exist, the precaution of boiling milk might be advisable. Simple directions for pasteurizing milk at home, however, are contained in Circular 127 which will be sent free on application to the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Cows affected with the malignant form of the disease close practically all of their milk. In mild cases, however, the decrease may be from one-third to one-half of the usual yield. The appearance of the milk also changes. It becomes thinner, bluish, and poor in fat. When the udder is affected, the milk frequently contains coagulated fibrin and blood, so that a considerable sediment forms, while the cream is thin and of a dirty color. These changes, however, occur only when the disease is in an advanced stage and, as a matter of fact, the disease is not permitted to pass into an advanced stage, as any stricken animal is at once slaughtered.

Men who come in contact with diseased animals may also become infected. In adult human beings the contagion causes such symptoms as sore mouths, painful swallowing, fever, and occasional eruptions on the hands, finger tips, etc. While causing considerable discomfort, however, the disease is rarely serious. Where it is very prevalent among animals, some authorities believe that it is fairly general among human beings, but that the disturbances it causes are usually so slight that they are not brought to the attention of the family physician. There is, however, a very good reason for everyone giving the diseased animals as wide a berth as possible, namely, that otherwise they may easily carry the disease to perfectly healthy herds. Federal inspectors engaged in the work of eradicating the pestilence are thoroughly equipped with rubber coats, hats, boots and gloves, which may be completely disinfected, and others who lack this equipment are strongly urged not to allow their curiosity to induce them to become a menace to their own neighbors' property.

The disease, in short, is dangerous because of the loss that it occasion to property, and not because of its effects upon the health of mankind. At present all infected herds are being slaughtered as soon as they are discovered, and all danger of infection has been removed in this way, the local authorities quarantine the milk.

Those who wish additional precautions are recommended to use pasteurized milk, but as has already been said, this recommendation holds true whether or not there is any fear of the foot and mouth disease.

CATHOLIC HONORS

FOR SHAHAN. Baltimore, Md., Nov. 14.—New honors of the Catholic Church will fall tomorrow to Monsignor Thomas J. Shahan, rector of the Catholic University at Washington, when he will be consecrated titular bishop of Germanopolis by Cardinal Gibbons in Baltimore Cathedral. Monsignor Shahan is one of the most prominent Catholics in America, and his writings and activities in education have brought him many honors.

The titular see of Germanopolis is in Asia Minor, in the mountainous province of Iscaria, and like many of the titular sees is now a poor village of a few thousand inhabitants. It is of interest, however, to Americans, having been successively held by Bishop Bullon of Erie and Bishop Kodalka of Superior. Assisting Cardinal Gibbons tomorrow will be Bishop Niland of Hartford and Bishop O'Connell of Richmond. The sermon of consecration will be preached by Monsignor Durgan, vicar-general of the Hartford Diocese.

$600,000,000 MORTGAGE ON B & O

New York, Nov. 14.—When the stockholders of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad meet on Monday, they will be asked to approve a new mortgage of $600,000,000. In explaining the blanket mortgage, President Willard says: "I have been against raising money by the sale of notes. This mortgage will enable us, under favorable circumstances, to avoid the use of notes, and to sell two, five or ten millions of bonds at a time, according to our needs. It is not planned to market many bonds under the new mortgage before June 1915, when the notes fall due, and the railroad is undertaking no new construction work at this time. The stockholders will also be asked to approve a plan to reduce the number of organizations in several states.

"PLUM TREE" TO START NEW ESSANAY PRIZE DRAMAS OF MYSTERY

COMPLETE SHORT STORIES FROM LADIES' WORLD FILMED; LARGE SUMS FOR LOST PARAGRAPH.

ONE COMPLETE IN ITSELF, TELLS OF WAR AND LOVE IN MEXICO IN THREE ACTS.

In conjunction with the "Ladies' World" Magazine, which is one of the largest of its kind published in the country, the Essanay Company will on September 18 release the first complete mystery drama of one of the most unique series ever inaugurated by a film manufacturing organization.

The first of the mystery dramas is "The Plum Tree" in three acts. It is a gripping drama of romance and intrigue that will appeal to everyone who attends motion picture theatres. Here is the plan: "The Plum Tree," like all of the mystery dramas which will follow, will be a complete story with the exception that one paragraph will be omitted in the Ladies' World publication. In the Essanay production the entire story will be shown on the screen, including the paragraph which is missing in the magazine story.

Large Prizes Offered.

The Ladies' World will offer large prizes to its readers who send in the best paragraph to take the place of the one which is missing. In order to find out just what the missing paragraph is, it will be necessary for the magazine readers to see the Essanay drama.

The Ladies' World claims more than 5,000,000 readers and it is safe to say that every one of these will read this fascinating story and will become exceedingly curious as to the missing paragraph. Their next move is an obvious one—they will immediately demand to see the motion picture and the missing paragraph.

The management of the Essanay Company and the Ladies' World Magazine are especially insistent that the public be informed that this is no serial story, but is a complete short story in itself, with a complete mystery and a complete solution. Motion picture patrons will not have to attend a series of photoplays in order to find the missing paragraph.

Similar Drama Each Month.

Following the production of "The Plum Tree," the Ladies' World magazine will publish each month a similar mystery story which will also be produced by the Essanay company and in which the missing paragraph will also be thrown on the screen. The Essanay company is spending thousands of dollars in this new idea and no expense whatever is being spared to make the pictures the greatest of their kind ever produced.

One of the most prominent film men in the country, upon being informed of the new Essanay-Ladies' World series, said:

"I think the idea will make a hit all over the country because of the fact that the new mystery dramas will be complete in one picture. The serial photoplay has proved a failure because of the fact that thousands of people go to see one picture and are unable to see the one following. There is no such objection to the new Essanay idea. The theatre patrons may see one picture and miss out on the next one, but the third one will be just as interesting as though they never skipped the second production. I, like the idea immensely, and I am sure exhibitors all over the country will look at it in the same way."

Other prominent names in the cast are Harry Dunkinson, Helen Dunbar, Frank Dayton, Thos. Commerford and John H. Cosser.

Realistic Battle Takes Place.

The Federal troops led by Ewell, hurry to the scene and meet the rebels on the desert. Here one of the most realistic battles ever produced in motion pictures takes place. Griggs is fighting with the rebel army and Ewell with the Federals. In the thick of the battle the two men meet and, not recognizing each other, engage in a hand to hand struggle which ends in Griggs being mortally wounded.

Ewell carries him out of the line of fire to a hut. The dying man confesses to having planned the train robbery to implicate Ewell and to get him out of the way. Ewell then returns to Alice and a beautiful reunion takes place under the old plum tree.

Francis X. Bushman as Ewell stars throughout the play and his acting is unusual in every way. Beverly Bayne as Alice Graham enacts the part of the sweetheart to perfection, and Lester Cuneo as Griggs is one of the best villains seen in film circles in some time.

Other prominent names in the cast are Harry Dunkinson, Helen Dunbar, Frank Dayton, Thos. Commerford and John H. Cosser.

Progress is attained by leaving old and beaten paths and cutting new roads through to the goal, Success.

The rapidity of progress is increased by the use of shorter, smoother, broader channels of communication, and later, newer and more efficient means and methods of dealing with the questions that arise daily in the world's work.

PROPERTY ROTTED MANURE IS GOOD FOR LAWNS

Spring Appearance Depends on Work Done During Winter.

Washington, Nov. 14.—To stimulate the growth of a lawn and to improve its appearance for the following spring, no better treatment can be recommended than the application of properly rotted manure in the late fall, according to the United States Department of Agriculture's specialist. This application should not be made until after the frosts have stopped the growth of the grass. Ten to twenty two-horse loads should be applied to the acre, according as the soil is more or less rich.

It is most important that the manure should be thoroughly rotted before application so that all weed seeds are killed. Otherwise damage done by weeds will more than offset the fertilizing value of the application. Manure really needs careful handling before it is suited for spreading over the lawn. Unless it is properly "composted" it may have most of its valuable constituents destroyed by improper handling. To "compost" manure properly it should be treated as follows:
Pile all manure in heaps with alternate layers of sod or other litter,

Keep it wet enough so it will not burn. Let it stand a whole year through summer and winter, forking it over two or three times during the year. It will then be ready for use on the lawns and danger from weed seeds will be minimized.

Ground Bone Meal and Wood Ashes.
Many people object to the use of manure at all, not only because of the danger from weed seeds, but because of its unsightly and unsanitary appearance. These will undoubtedly prefer to use something else, and the most economical substitute is finely ground bone or bone meal. This should be applied at the rate of from 500 pounds to one ton per acre, according as the ground is more or less rich. It should cost between $25 and $30 a ton.

With the bone meal, it is desirable to use double the quantity of wood ashes. These ashes contain considerable lime in a very desirable form, as well as other valuable elements. However, they are apt to be more costly.
Ordinarily Muriate of Potash would be found more economical than wood ashes, although the potash does not contain the lime which the other fertilizer imparts to the soil. On account of the European war, the potash may prove more difficult to obtain than the wood ashes. Only one-tenth the quantity of potash should be used as of bone meal.

The potash may be sown separately or mixed with the bone meal as desired. The same is true of wood ashes if these are used instead of potash. All applications should be made before the ground freezes permanently for the winter as otherwise the fertilizer may be largely washed from the soil before it has a chance to become incorporated with it.

In regions where cottonseed meal may be obtained at a price not over $20 per ton, it may be used satisfactorily in the place of the ground bone. Tankage and Fish scraps are even richer in important elements than ground bone but are frequently in bad mechanical condition for handling (that is, they contain hair or other foreign coarse matter). Their bad odor also makes them objectionable.
Prepared Sheep Manure is an excellent dressing. As it has been sterilized by drying and rendered odorless, there are not the objections to it that there might be to ordinary manure. Its one drawback is expensiveness.

To Protect Worn Places. If there are any parts of the lawn which will be tramped over when they are not frozen, and especially when snow is melting there, these parts should be protected to prevent persons from cutting across. Tramping on the turf when it is covered by slush or snow is as destructive to a lawn as almost anything else.

It is hardly necessary to say that nothing will be gained by scattering grass seed on the lawn at this season.

STOCK SHOW AT KANSAS CITY.

Kansas City, Mo., Nov. 14.—The quarantine on cattle will not interrupt the American Live Stock Show at the Kansas City stock yards which opens on Monday and will continue all next week. The directors of the show have decided to carry out their plans.

GIRLS IN BAD HEALTH.

Hundreds of girls go to work day after day, afflicted with some ailment peculiar to their sex, dragging one foot wearily after the other, working always with one eye on the clock and wishing for closing time to come. Every such girl should rely on Lydia Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to restore her to a normal healthy condition, then work will be a pleasure. For forty years this famous root and herb medicine has been pre-eminently successful in controlling the diseases of women. Why don't you try it?—Advertiser.

SOME NEW FIGURES GIVEN ON TUBERCULOSIS

Study of 3,000 Churches With
1,603,300 Members, Shows One Case of Consumption a Year For Every Twenty Communicants.

In an effort to ascertain how serious a problem tuberculosis is to the average church congregation of the United States, The National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis publishes today a report which shows that in nearly 3,000 churches in 37 different states one funeral in every ten is due to this single disease.

Through a questionnaire sent out all over the country, 2,852 clergymen representing 1,603,300 communicants or parishioners gave replies telling at how many funerals they officiated for the year ending August 31, 1914; how many of these were due to tuberculosis; how many living cases of tuberculosis they now have in their parishes, and how many communicants or parishioners. There were 36,798 deaths from all causes reported, showing a death rate of 22.9 per 10,000 population, which is considerably higher than the corresponding rate for the entire country, 133.7 in 1912. This high death rate is probably due to the fact that pastors of churches officiate at many funerals of others than members or communicants, while their membership reports are taken from actual records.

As indicating the extent of the tuberculosis problem in the average church the figures show that 10.3 per cent of all the funerals reported were caused by tuberculosis, and that, in addition to the 3,794 deaths from this disease, the ministers had 4,254 living cases now under their pastoral supervision. In one year, therefore, the 2,852 churches were caring for 8,048 cases of tuberculosis, or an average of nearly three for each congregation. The average size of the congregations was 56, which would indicate that there is a case of tuberculosis developing each year for every twenty church members.

Because tuberculosis demands so much time and money from the churches, The National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis is calling upon all of them throughout the United States to join in an educational campaign against this disease on Tuberculosis Day, which will be observed during the week of November 29th.

FORMER RESIDENTS HERE.
Rev. and Mrs. Frank L. Bowen, after a visit with friends in Jacksonville and Lynnville, have gone to their home in Kansas City. Rev. Mr. Bowen was pastor of the Christian church in Lynnville and was a frequent visitor in this city where he had hosts of friends. Eighteen years ago he and his helpmeet removed to Kansas City where they have since made their home. Thirteen churches have been erected through the instrumentality of Rev. Bowen and four missions are being sustained by those churches. Rev. Bowen was a hard worker in the Masters cause and while engaged in organizing the various church bodies he was delivering four sermons on Sunday while his wife was engaged in Sunday school work among the young folks and children of the churches being organized. Much good has been accomplished by this worker and his wife in the Lord's vineyard in Kansas City, where they are highly esteemed by a large circle of friends and acquaintances in all parts of the city.

A WAR TIME LETTER.

The following letter was written by Martin Summers from the battle field at Corinth the day after the battle to his father who was at that time a resident of Morgan county.
The letter was found in an old trunk which had not been opened for some years and was handed by his uncle,
J. M. Summers, to the reporter. The writer of the letter was on the firing line and was holding his gun in front of him, when a Minnie ball struck his gun splintering the stock and passing between two fingers of his left hand, left a slight wound on both fingers. This was the wound he refers to in the letter.
M. H. Summers,
Jacksonville, Illinois.

Dear Father:
I have passed through one more of the hardest battles of the west.
I would have written to you before but our regiment has for ten days been on the march. I would be glad to see you all once more, I could tell you more about hard times than you ever saw. I am well at present, although my left hand was slightly wounded, and I am off duty at this time. Father, you cannot have the least idea what a horrible sight it was to see the battle field on the 3rd and 4th of this month. The field was so covered for two acres that a person could step from one body to another across the field.
They have not all been buried yet.
Father, I want you to write to me as soon as you get this. There are some of the rebels that are nearly starved, and some have hardly any clothes. There was a small number of our men killed in the battle, but the rebels made a bold attack on our breast works and many of them fell.
Cousins Jim and Tom were not in the fight, and they are both well.
Affectionately, your son,
Martin H. Summers.

To the Rescue in Blood Diseases

Just the Help Needed to Overcome Worst Troubles.

In S. S. S., the famous blood purifier, is the greatest natural repair crew known. It is an antidote for germs, that once let loose, multiply so fast that a definite disease is apparent over night. And yet so powerful is the influence of S. S. S. that like a vast army it spreads all through the blood, checks disease, opens up all the valves of escape and throws out disease through the lungs, kidneys, bladder, bowels and skin.

Do not become panic stricken if a rash or boils or eruptions inflame the skin. Nature is doing her best but Nature is at the same time calling for help, and in S. S. S. is just the kind of help Nature demands, for it is a pure vegetable remedy with an action that vigorously follows the blood channels and cleans and repairs as it goes along. In every community are people who know this to be true. They have used S. S. S. and are blood clean, through and through.

Get a bottle of S. S. S. today at any drug store. Drive out those destructive germs that cause skin eruptions, sore throat, swollen glands, blood risings, painful rheumatic joints, chronic bronchitis, and most all conditions of disease. Read the folder around the bottle that tells about the great work being done to assist sufferers. If you would know more about the blood and its treatment, write for special book to The Swift Specific Co., 52 Swift Bldg., Atlanta, Ga.

STATE FOOD COMMISSION ISSUES RECOMMENDATIONS

Circular Sent Out by Illinois Commission Regarding Foot and Mouth Disease Should Interest Everyone—Precautions to be Taken.

State Food Commissioner Mathews has the following words of recommendation to offer farmers and cattle men regarding precautions to be taken against the foot and mouth disease:

"Foot and mouth disease, also known as Aphthous Fever, is an acute and highly infectious and contagious disease of cattle and other domestic animals, the most characteristic features of which is the eruption of vesicles on the mucous membrane of the mouth and on the skin between the toes and above the hoofs. The vesicles break, forming cankers and ulcers, accompanied by salivation, great tenderness of affected parts, loss of appetite, lameness, emaciation and diminution of milk secreted.

"In the early stages, or in a mild attack of the disease, the milk may present only a few abnormal characteristics, such as the falling of the specific gravity in 1923-1925 and the reduction in the quantity of sugar and casein. When the disease is fully developed, or about the third day, the milk invariably contains inflammatory products of a very pronounced character, and the quantity of milk is greatly reduced. Cows affected with the malignant form of the disease lose practically all of their milk, but if the disease is mild in character the decrease will be from one-third to one-half of the usual yield.

"The milk becomes thinner, bluish and low in fat. If the udder becomes involved the milk becomes slimy and yellowish and viscous like colostrum. It may contain blood and deposit a sediment on standing; the cream layer is thin and of dirty color. Sometimes no cream layer is formed, the milk appearing uniform but slimy, and possessing a bad odor and repulsive, rancid taste.

"The disease is transmissible to man in a mild form by drinking raw milk or buttermilk or eating butter or cheese from diseased cattle, and also, though rarely from the secretion or other infected material through abrasions in the skin.

"Children may be infected by drinking raw milk during the time the disease is prevalent. The disease giving rise to about the same symptoms as are observed in animals. The death rate of children attacked by the foot and mouth disease has been about 8 per cent.

"The 'germ' causing the disease has never been isolated, but is known to lose its virulence by being heated to 122 degrees F., for fifteen minutes; by being heated to 158 degrees F. for ten minutes; heating by boiling destroys it at once.

The following disinfectants destroy the 'germ' in one hour:

1. Good whitewash.
2. Solution of carbolic acid, 1 per cent.
3. Solution of washing soda, 3 per cent.
4. Hydrochloric (muriatic) acid, 1 per cent.

The 'germ' is not easily killed by cold and has been known to remain active after being placed in a refrigerator for one month.

As a means of safe-guarding the milk supply of the State as well as for the protection of the dairyman and his herd, the Commission makes the following recommendations:

Do not visit farms or districts, where the disease is prevalent or suspected.

Do not purchase feed or bedding from infected districts.

Do not use feed which is liable to lacerate the mouth.

Keep dogs tied up.

All stray animals, including birds and pigeons, should be killed.

All buildings, feed lots, yards and equipment should be kept in a clean and sanitary condition. Drinking troughs should be particularly looked after.

Keep all live stock off the highways.

Wash and scald all milk cans as soon as they are returned to the farm.

Disinfectants such as bichloride, slaked lime, etc., that are liable to dry and crack the hoofs should not be used on the feet of animals.

If the disease is prevalent in your vicinity, spray barns thoroughly either with compound cresol solution of chlorinated lime made according to the following directions:

Chlorinated lime—22 lbs.
Water—50 gallons.

Chlorinated lime, also "chloride of lime," should be purchased only in sealed packages as the bulk article soon loses its strength on exposure to air and becomes almost worthless. The water should be lukewarm. Strain the solution before placing in sprayer. Spray the barn soon after the cows are turned out each morning.

If a case of the disease is noticed on your farm notify one of the following officers immediately:

Dr. E. Bennett, Chief Chicago Inspector, Bureau of Animal Industry, United States Department of Agriculture, Chicago, or Dr. E. O. Dyson, Illinois State Veterinarian, Union Stock Yards, Chicago.

W. Scott Matthews, State Food Commissioner.

ILLINOIS COLLEGE NOTES

The Reverend Percy W. Stephens will speak to the students at the chapel exercises on Tuesday morning.

Judge E. P. Kirby, '54, has kindly donated a large number of books to the college library, many of them of considerable value.

Several months ago some friends of the college started a fund for the purchase of a stereopticon. It is the plan to purchase a first class instrument with all appliances and also to wire the chapel and at least two lecture rooms.

The instrument and attachments will probably cost something over three hundred dollars. Any friend who is interested in giving assistance in this matter may communicate with Dr. C. E. Black. It is hoped that the fund will be completed within a few weeks.

A religious census taken of the college students shortly after the beginning of the semester shows the various denominations to be represented in the following order: Methodist, Presbyterian, Christian, Congregational, Baptist, Roman Catholic, Episcopalian, Lutheran, German Evangelical, Jewish. Only two students expressed no preference as regards church affiliation.

NEW BANKING SYSTEM GOES INTO EFFECT MONDAY

Many Financiers Optimistic About Results of System Under Direction of Federal Reserve Board.

Washington, Nov. 14.—After months of preparation and organization, Governor Charles S. Hamlin the head of the Federal Reserve Board, awaits the actual beginning of the new banking system on Monday. Secretary McAdoo, Governor Hamlin, and all the other members of the board are optimistic in regard to the outlook and believe that the change from the operation under the old national bank law to the new law will be with little friction.

If the operation of the new banking system meets with the success that its framers predict, a new era in finance will begin on Monday. In a large and broad sense, the new law is as much the law of the merchant, the manufacturer, the industrial worker and the plain citizen as it is the law of the banker. The best proof of this is that when the new banks begin operations next week the enormous sum of $500,000,000 will be released for the business uses of the country.

One of the most important purposes which the drafters of the law had in mind was the limitation of the power alleged to have been held by a small group of bankers, through the systems of alleged interlocking directorates. It was charged that this "money power" had concentrated into its hands many of the resources and the banking credits of the United States to the end that it might reap profits and wield authority which were unreasonable.

There is not to be under the new law a general distribution of the money of the country—the purpose of the new law is to make banking easier and safer, to develop and extend commercial credits, to prevent the congestion of the currency in one or two or more centers, to permit the banks to use their own resources in their own interest, and for the benefit of the communities and sections they immediately serve, to strengthen the system by conserving the resources of all for the benefit of each, to make the business national in fact, and not sectional or municipal, to so concentrate in a central board the direction of the finances of the country that business panics will not be possible, unless, indeed, the bottom should fall out of everything.

Under the new system, as under the old, there will be wheels within wheels. A Federal Reserve Board, the hub of the system; Federal Reserve banks with many members; Federal Reserve districts, each under the direction of a Federal bank, and all directly under the government of the Federal Reserve Board. The Federal Reserve notes are under the government of the Federal Reserve board. The Federal Reserve notes are designed to give elasticity to currency not possible under the old law, sufficient to meet business emergencies, the expansion and contraction of the currency being regulated and controlled in accordance with business necessities.

The passing national banking system was, in fact, not a system at all. The banks were simply organized and operated under federal statute. There were no fixed relationships between the banks or between the banks and the government. In time of panic, the weakest went down, without any help or hope from the strongest. All that was good in the old system has been retained in the new Federal Reserve system, and in addition, it is provided that the weak will have the help of the strong, in the common interest.

It was not the intention of President Wilson when he urged the new system to put the Government into the banking business. The law which he fathered provides only the system by which the banking business shall be done. The Federal Board is to be self-governing and will be supported entirely by the member banks. So important is the power wielded by the members of the Federal board that the approval of the President's nominees caused extensive investigation to be made by the Senate, and several bitter wrangles over the candidates.

The governor of the Federal Reserve Board, Charles S. Hamlin, was formerly assistant secretary of the Treasury. He is a trained lawyer, has been a lecturer at Harvard on government, and has represented the United States in international conferences abroad. The other members of the board are prominent bankers and financiers, and were selected by President Wilson with great care.

EXIT JUDGE WHO SENTENCED GOMPEERS.

Washington, Nov. 14.—Justice Daniel Thew Wright, who attracted attention several years ago by sentencing Samuel Gompers and other labor leaders to contempt leaves the supreme court bench of the District of Columbia today, having resigned while under fire of impeachment charges last month. The charges, filed with the Judiciary Committee of the House of Representatives, allege official and personal misconduct.

FIRE BROKE OUT before three o'clock Saturday morning in the cannery factory at Kane and burned the structure to the ground. The loss will be in the neighborhood of eight thousand dollars. No cause is assigned for the fire and the building was a total loss.

HAS NEW RESIDENCE.

The new house and barn which Thomas Stone of Chapin is building for John Boddy one mile west of Markham is almost complete and Mr. Boddy is planning to remove from his old house on the opposite side of the road within a short time. The house is an eight room modern structure and the barn is of more than ordinary size.

COUNTRY RESIDENTS ARGUE FOR MORTON ROAD BETTERMENTS

Largely Attended Meeting Held to Protest Against Action of Commissioners in Designating Springfield Road at Recent Meeting.

A meeting of about 150 prominent land owners and residents of Morgan county was held at the court house Saturday afternoon to express their sentiment in favor of beginning permanent road work on the Morton road and to present arguments why the Springfield road should not have been or should not be designated by the county commissioners in preference to the Morton road. A. C. Rice presided as chairman and also made remarks, and F. E. Drury, as the general spokesman for residents in the vicinity of the Morton road, briefly stated the argument in its favor and presented a petition signed by about five hundred country residents asking that the hard road be constructed as early as possible on the Morton road. J. A. Munson presented a petition to the same effect for the T. P. A. and Pearl Taylor for the United Commercial Travelers, and speeches were made in favor of the south route by Dr. F. H. Metcalf, C. M. Strawn, Anton Bergschneider and James Kinney. When the argument had been concluded W. F. Roeger for the commissioners stated that the petitions presented and arguments made would be given due consideration.

Mr. Drury in his remarks referred to the petition he presented with the names of 500 citizens attached; to the petition of a similar nature signed by road officers of district No. 42; to resolutions adopted by the Morgan County Association of Highway Commissioners and Clerks, the T. P. A., the Young Men's Booster club and others. J. A. Munson in speaking for the T. P. A. said that there are 260 members of the order in Morgan county and that they believe the south road would be of benefit to a traveling man by connecting up the smaller towns and making them accessible in winter weather. Gerald Taylor spoke in the same vein for T. P. A., which has 117 local members.

A. C. Rice maintained that the south route was advisable because it would serve the interests of the larger number of people, and he presented figures to show that south of Alexander precinct and east of Jacksonville the number of residents is 5,563, and that north of Alexander precinct the number of residents is 1,777. He said that the south route was on almost a straight line from Jacksonville to the eastern limits of the county and that a road there would be advisable for the people of Waverly and Franklin in coming to Jacksonville. Dr. Metcalf, of Franklin, said that there are three routes from Franklin to Jacksonville now and that it is 16 miles coming through Pigeon, 17 miles by way of Alexander and 18 through the Asbury neighborhood. He said that if the south route was used Franklin people by traversing only 7 miles of dirt roads could reach the improved highway. F. J. Kaiser of Alexander was called on but asked C. M. Strawn to speak in his stead and Mr. Strawn told what a good town Alexander is and why the people there were heading for the south route. He said this road is better, leveler and straighter than the Springfield road. Anton Bergschneider, a resident of the south part of the county, also spoke in favor of it.

Mr. Rice said that the petitioners had come before the commissioners in all good feeling having heard that the board had favored a change from the south route to the Springfield road and simply wanted to make it clear why they were so enthusiastic for the south route. James Kenney told of his observations in Iowa and said that in that state the farmers helped pay to improved highways because they only of the road but of the improved drainage as well. The meeting Saturday was attended by residents of Franklin, Alexander, Brown's Crossing and several other neighborhoods east and south of Jacksonville. A similar meeting was held in Franklin Friday which was attended by more than 100 residents.

A Paid Up Health Insurance Policy With Every Round Oak Base Burner

THE ROUND OAK BASE BURNER IS WHAT THE DOCTOR ORDERED

New, Different, as Usual, Originated by the Round Oak Folks

The heating of homes by steam, hot-water systems, and hard-coal stoves, removes all the moisture from the atmosphere in the home, and literally bakes the very air you breathe. The linings of the throat and lungs become parched and dry, and on stepping outside, on a winter day, the moisture in the outside air irritates the throat and lungs and causes a cough and cold, which rapidly develop into pneumonia.

How may healthful, moist air be generated? By the use of the Round Oak Base Burner with Humidifier. This is your insurance policy. Proper size and location of this "Health-giving" attachment together with other vital and patented improvements in construction, combine to produce the handsomest four-fuel stove which, not only heats your home more economically, but assures you of health, cheer and happiness.

Come right in and see these astounding improvements to which we attribute our rapidly increasing sale of Base Burners.

S. W. BABB SECURES AGENCY FOR "THE CAR OF MYSTERY"

Official announcement is made by Dodge Brothers, Detroit, of selection of Mr. S. W. Babb to handle the forthcoming Dodge Brothers' motor car in Morgan and Scott counties.

The rivalry on the part of dealers to represent this new car has been intense, not only in Jacksonville but throughout the country—as high as 31 applications having been received from dealers in some of the larger cities. It is therefore a distinct compliment to Mr. Babb that he has been successful in securing this most coveted dealership.

Dodge Brothers are widely known in the automobile industry as the largest manufacturers of parts in the world. It is stated on good authority that they have supplied the motor parts to over 500,000 of the 1,250,000 cars now in use in this country.

Because of their tremendous manufacturing facilities, their high financial standing, and their wide experience in the manufacture of parts, it is generally conceded that the car they will market this Fall will set a new standard in automobile values. Their car has been called the "Car of Mystery" because of the fact that no word has been given out as to price, dimensions or equipment. In spite of this fact, the reputation of Dodge Brothers is such that the best dealers throughout the country are taking on the line, "because," as Mr. Babb says, "it is inconceivable that a concern of the character of Dodge Brothers should not play a very large part in establishing automobile values for the future."

The fact that Mr. Babb has taken the agency for "the car of mystery" will not in any way interfere with his business as representative of the Cadillac Co. Mr. Babb has been a Cadillac agent for the past two years and has met with such large success in placing these well known cars that an additional interest attaches locally to the new car he is to represent. With the Cadillac and its another car to offer the continued success of the past is assured.

Dodge Brothers are fortunate in securing such a representative dealer in Jacksonville.

ILLINOIS LOSES CHAMPIONSHIP GAME

DEFEATED BY LOMBARD COLLEGE 17 TO 13.

I. C. Make Touch Down in First Five Minutes of Play—Alford Hurt in Third Quarter—Stewart and Pierce Play Brilliantly.

Illinois college met defeat at the hands of Lombard college Saturday afternoon at Lombard, by a score of 13 to 17, thus losing their only chance of winning the minor college conference championship. Illinois felt the loss of Wilson, the fast half back, who is in the hospital and also Alford was hurt at the beginning of the second half of the game and had to be taken out. Illinois put up a brilliant contest, the work of Stewart and Pierce being sensational. Illinois made their first touch down five minutes after the game started when Stewart was sent over. The effect was bad for Illinois, who thought Lombard would prove easy the rest of the contest. Lombard renewed their efforts and by hitting the guard hard made two touchdowns in the first half.

In the third quarter Alford was hurt so badly that he had to be taken out of the game. Jones took his place and Whisler went in Jones place. During the second half and third half Coach Moore of Lombard had a string of men going in and out of the game. He sent Seeley the drop kicker in four different times in the 4th quarter. In the third quarter Seeley got a drop kick. Illinois got their last touch down when Stewart grabbed a drop kick from Lombard and he and Whisler carried the ball back for big gains, a forward pass to Frisbie netting Illinois 6 more points.

Illinois' line up follows: Frisbie and Karch, re; Russel and Frisbie, rt; Theobald and Russel, rg; Atchison, c; Butcher, lg; Mitchell, lt; Pierce and McLaughlin, le; Stewart, qb; Gary and Helme, ph; Alford and Jones, fb; Jones and Whisler lb.
